The World's Best Endpoint Protection

Sophos Intercept X employs a comprehensive defense-in-depth approach to endpoint protection rather than simply relying on one primary security technique. This is the “the power of the plus” – a combination of leading foundational and modern techniques to stop the widest range of endpoint threats.

Modern techniques include deep learning malware detection, exploit prevention, active adversary protection, and anti-ransomware specific features. Foundational techniques include signature-based malware detection, behavior analysis, malicious traffic detection, device control, application control, web filtering, data loss prevention, and more.

Intelligent EDR

Endpoint detection and response capabilities are needed to go beyond prevention to detect additional threats, investigate further, and respond with confidence.

Unlike other solutions, Sophos Intercept X Advanced with EDR integrates intelligent EDR with the industry's top-rated endpoint protection in a single solution, so organizations can answer the tough questions about security incidents without being overwhelmed by noise and false alerts.

With Intercept X, Sophos has created an EDR product that adds expertise, not headcount. While other EDR solutions rely on highly skilled human analysts to ask questions and interpret data, Intercept X Advanced with EDR is powered by machine learning and enhanced with curated SophosLabs threat intelligence. This means you can use the team you have in place today, rather than having to hire multiple full-time employees in order to get value from your EDR tool.

Managed Detection and Response

The Sophos Managed Threat Response [MTR] service provides 24/7 threat hunting, detection, and response delivered by a team of Sophos experts as a fully managed service. Managed detection and response fuses machine learning technology and expert analysis for improved threat hunting and detection, deeper investigation of alerts, and targeted actions to eliminate more sophisticated and complex threats.
